Availability and shipping options during the turn of the year 2020/2021

Dear business partners,

The year 2020 has demanded a lot from all of us – privately as well as in our business life! Already in the first quarter the course was set into a direction completely unknown to all of us. Suddenly masks, hand disinfection and distance rules ruled our daily life. The global impact of the pandemic is still being felt massively until today and many industries have been hit hard.

Despite the many negative news and forecasts in 2020, we at NEUMO have used the time to grow and focus on your needs with optimized processes.

Not even a year ago, in the beginning of December 2019, after the ground-breaking ceremony, the excavators rolled onto the site of the new NEUMO Ehrenberg Campus in Knittlingen, Germany.

Today, thanks to a highly professional and dedicated project team, after 12 months of undelayed construction, we are proud to look at our new and modern NEUMO Ehrenberg Campus. Already in January 2021, the first building will get ready for accupation and we will move our tube warehouse into an ultra-modern, automatic warehouse system.

With regards to the upcoming relocation of our tube warehouse, we kindly ask for your understanding that in the period from December 23rd 2020 to probably January 15th 2021 no tube shipments will be possible. Furthermore, in the following weeks there may still be partial limitations or extended processing times for tube orders. The business segments of components, pressure vessels and heat exchangers are completely excluded from this and will be back in full operation on January 11th 2021. We would like to ask you to consider this information in your material planning already today and kindly ask you to apologize for any possible inconvenience.

We are looking forward being back to you after the relocation of our tube warehouse, with even faster order passage times and maximum flexibility.
